Miscellany Magazine Annual: Mug & Mali's Miscellany Volume 39 John H Boose, Molly L Boose

If you like your books with a high picture-to-text ratio (if you know what we mean), then get this miscellaneous mess of cocktails, photo mash-ups, silly factoids, and emotion-laden drinking. In spite of hordes of Visigoths and bar keepers, Mug and Mali crafted this new malodorous hodgepodge. Readers will find the miscellany startling and the cocktails addicting – and vice-versa. “Miscellany Magazine Annual” is impertinent, yet jejune, over-shadowing such lesser works as, “How To Lick Salt” and “Do Trousers Matter?” It’s another piece of work that will keep you up nights reading and drinking. Enjoy! What they’re saying about Mug & Mali’s Miscellany Magazine Annual: “We would love to read this 21st Century Dada book, if we were still around.” – Marcel Duchamp, Hans Earp, Max Earnest, Man Raygun, Tristen Zorro, Salvador’s Deli. “This is the best book I ever read.” – Abraham Lincoln. “Early to rise and early to bed make a man sleepy, stupid, and dead.” – Benjamin Franklin. “This book looks like I need a drink.” – Rhoda Booke, Loose Change Quarterly. “What a great cure for insomnia!” – Freida People, The Roman Tribune. “In the words of Theodore Sturgeon, ‘90% of everything is crud,’ and this is no exception.” – Ginger Vitas, The Dead Beat. “...most of the time, to see the truly bad takes training, but not here.” – Helen Wheels, USA Yesterday. “Even the worst book has an end.” – Ira Gurgitate, The Pittsburgh Drifter. “I’d rather be drinking.” – Tyrone Shoelaces, The Daily Bungle. “...so indescribably bad that I do not intend to waste anyone’s time by describing it.” – Segovia Carpet, The Paid Review. “Even poorer than I expected, which is saying something.” – Rhoda Mule, KRUD Radio. “If Mug & Mali’s aren’t America’s leading humorists, I can see why.” – Isabelle Ringing, The Illiterary Journal.
