In this study, we'll be taking a look at five of the women we find in the Bible. We'll look at each woman closely, considering her strengths and her weaknesses, her trials and her triumphs, making personal application along the way. This will be a time of discovery. Not only will you uncover new and interesting things about the women we're studying, but you'll discover new things about yourself in the process. Keep that word discovery in mind, because the lessons are written in such a way that the discovery process will be yours alone, as well as the personal application in the end!
